

Changing Letter Grades to Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory Grades

With the mid-semester move to online classes, we recognize some students are experiencing challenges or disruptions that could influence grade outcomes. Consequently, for spring semester 2020, if you are enrolled in an undergraduate class, you may change your undergraduate-level class grades from Graded (letter grades) to Satisfactory/Not Satisfactory grades.

IMPORTANT: Courses that are already coded S/U will not appear in the list of classes whose grading type you may change. Additionally, some colleges and departments will have designated specific classes as remaining letter-grade only. If you are unable to change a letter-graded undergraduate class, this is why.

Between 9:00 a.m. EST Monday, March 30, 2020, and 11:59 p.m. EST Friday, April 12, 2020, you can log in to your Student Central to change your grade type for selected classes. If you attempt to make this change after April 10, when you click/tap Finish Editing (step 6), the update will fail.

1. From Student Central, click/tap the My Classes tile.

2. From the left-side navigation menu click/tap Enrollment: Edit a Class.

3. Under Select Term, select 2020 Spring and then click/tap Continue.
